VISIT

I'm going to talk about my education visit. I went to Haneda and Yokohama with my classmates last month.

I was a little excited about it.

We went there by train.

It was a one-day visit. The Keikyu Line is really crowded !!

I seemed to be crushed in a back being small.

It was my first time to ride it.

First, we went to the Haneda Airport and were checked by homeroom teacher at the Sun Tower.

We went to the Observation deck.

Therefore I could look at various airplanes and was very excited.

Then, we went to the Artrick Museum in Motomachi-Chukagai Station.

I could take various mysterious photographs and it was interesting there.

And, I ate a small basket parcel in Yokohama China town. It is very delicious.

In addition, I bought a panda headband of the panda matching together of the same group.

After that we went to Yokohama and broke up in front of the Yokohama Stadium.

I learned about terrible congestion in the train during rush hour.

In September we will go there again for a school trip. We are looking forward to it.
