A photograph of two men standing side-by-side under a white tent at an outdoor event. Both men are wearing red sleeveless polo shirts with a dark blue polo player logo on the chest. The man on the left is holding a large, rectangular package of Asahi beer, which has a white label with Japanese text and the number '50'. The man on the right is holding a similar package, also with Japanese text. They are both holding the packages up to their faces, partially obscuring them. In the background, other people are visible, including a person wearing a white baseball jersey with the number '27' and another with '27' and '3'. The scene is outdoors with trees and a paved area visible through the tent's opening.
