From Narita to Guam

(What efforts did you make—training, studying English, and so on?)

When I found out I could go to Guam, I studied English. To learn everyday English, I watched lots of English dramas and anime. I also practiced speaking by trying to say the English used in them.

My favorite anime is Bluey!

About Saint Paul Christian School

(How was your life at the local school?)

Compared to Japanese schools, there were many differences. What surprised me most was that students ate meals, went to the bathroom, and chatted during class. However, everyone worked diligently on homework and took tests seriously.

I realized it was a good balance.

About The life with Host Family

(How was your stay with the host family?)

The most memorable part of the Guam training program was the homestay. My host family were immigrants from the Philippines. Therefore, I believe I was able to experience both Guam and Philippine cultures. Many things were different from

Japan. (For example, religion and family structures.)

Your Comment through this experience

(What did you learn from this experience?)

I believe my English speaking and listening skills have definitely improved. I also learned to understand things from perspectives slightly different from my own. Not only was it enjoyable, but I think this training also helped me develop a spirit of challenge. This experience brought me one step closer to my dream for the future.
