Sister Schools & English Education

Yamato Nishi High School’s special area of concentration is international understanding. We currently have exchange programs running with Frederick Douglass High School in Maryland, USA, Rosehill College in Auckland, New Zealand, Maxmiliansgymnasium in Munich, Germany, Kwangmoon High School in Gwangmyeong, South Korea and Zama American High School in Camp Zama. Our students visit those sister schools annually, participating in a home-stay, sitting in on classes and experiencing high school life in each country.

The second-year class trip abroad is definitely a highlight of high school life. The students will go to Taiwan where they will visit a local high school and go sightseeing with a little help from their Taiwanese tour guides.

Every year, we organize an English Camp for the entire first-year class. Every year, in October, we study English for 2 days and 1 night. With the help of ALTs (Assistant Language Teachers) and many native speakers, the students can experience a variety of English activities.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The student council consists of a Head Council that oversees everything, all of the extracurricular activity clubs, and various committees, such as the international and broadcasting committees. With the help of teachers, the student council is responsible for the daily operations of classrooms and also school events.

The school sports festival is held in May. All students are divided into three teams, which compete in many athletic events against each other. In September is the “Moegi Festival,” the school’s cultural festival. Many student organizations use this as a chance to show off what they’ve done and to give performances, into which they’ve put a lot of time. The student council is in charge of planning and operating these very important events.

In addition, the various committees play an important role. For example, there is a committee to publish the school newspaper, one to raise money for social causes, and many others that give students a chance to make a difference.
