問 3	The local government should build a community center instead of a park for two reasons. First, people can make strong relationships. The notice says that a strong relationship is important because it can prevent some local problems. A community center is a good place for such a purpose. For example, my grandfather made new friends in haiku lessons at a community center. Moreover, children could play together in a play room. This is how people can have a strong relationship in a community center. Second, people will not be disturbed by noise. According to the notice, the life of people living near a park is sometimes ruined because of voices from the park. If people meet inside a community center, people living near it will hear less noise. In fact, when I visited my friend's house next to a community center, I heard almost nothing from it. Also, young people will not meet up there at night if it is locked. Therefore, people will not be disturbed by noise at any time. In conclusion, the local government should build a community center instead of a park because it can make a strong local relationship and make less noise.(198 words)	観点A 10点
